This is the way a local enthusiast set the positions in the big swimming meet which will be held on the harbor early in September. At the present time the swimmers appear to be closely bunched with any one of the stars having a chance for a place. These events will be the hardest to pick of any that have been staged this year, and anyone of the first flight may break through for a good position.

In the 100-yard event Duke Kahanamoku looks like a winner in his present condition and may lower the world's record for the event. An incident came up at the Y. M. C. A. tank which caused many of the enthusiasts to wonder whether or not a swimmer could do his best at night, with the cooler temperature.

Is Night Different?
One critic announced after the 500-yard swim that the swimming at night had much to do with the failure to set a new record. An hour later Duke set a new record for the 500-yard event and this took away much of the force of the theory. Nevertheless athletes have been known to do much better time in the heat of the day, and this theory may hold good during the coming meet. Nevertheless, if any of the swimmers crowd Duke he is likely to set a new record even if it is midnight on the water.

In his present form it does not appear as though Vollmer, the fastest sprinter of the trio which will come here, can win in the century. As he is today there is not a swimmer in the world who can win from Duke over the 100 yards, and George Cunha and Clarence Lane should cause him more trouble than Langer and Cann. Vollmer has made 54 seconds in a tank, but he will be going up against a man who has made 53.1 in open water. Vollmer may get the start, but Duke is almost certain to be the one to cross the line first.

Lane and Cunha figure.
Much is expected of Clarence Lane, and he should finish in the first four. Cunha was not in the best of condition at the Y meet, so a true line could not be obtained on his work, but he is sure to land ahead of Cann and Langer in the sprint event.

In the furthest swim Duke and Cunha will make an attempt to retain the record. Neither swimmer has been satisfied with the joint holding, and there will be an effort made to set a new mark by the local boys. Cunha has made as fast time as any swimmer in the world over the distance and should make a great fight for the honors. This is Vollmer's race and he holds the present tank record for this distance. Watch Harold Kruger in this event, as the tow-headed nator is anxious to set a new mark in the coming event.

"Stubby" in 220.
A race with anyone of the first six entered would show time around 2:25, and here are six of the greatest full-grown swimmers in the world aiming for the record of 2:29 held by Duke and Cunha. In the last meet Langer beat Kruger, but he will have a harder job this time, and it is not at all impossible that Kruger will finish better than fourth.

This race by all the dope that can be obtained should go down in the history of swimming. Here Duke will not have such a margin, and will be meeting the very best swimmers, and will have to be at his best to win. Kruger has made time close to the record in practice, and if he can swim the distance straight should do close to 2:30 in this event.

Can Cann Do It?
The 500-yard event again brings out another angle. In the Carnival meet Duke won from Langer in the 440, and should add the extra 60 yards for a victory. Vollmer is great at this distance, and his recent work in the tank has brought out the fact that he is to be figured on. Ted Cann beat Duke at St. Louis, and in this race will make another effort to win from the Hawaiian champion. Then again George Cunha and Harold Kruger are not to be overlooked as both boys were only 10 yards behind Duke in the recent Y meet. Cunha was not at his best, either, and here again there may be some change and the dope is upset. The three races will be a fight to the finish, and Hawaii will see the greatest swimming carnival ever staged, and Stockholm may not be expected at that.

This meeting will be one of the most pretentious ever attempted, and the A. A. U. should be given credit for bringing the best swimmers that could be obtained to Hawaii. That there will be a banner crowd on each evening goes without saying, as meets like the one which is set for early in September are staged only once in a decade.

SWIMMERS SHOULD MAKE APPLICATION AT ONCE.

Swimmers who wish to enter the coming meet on the harbor early in September must make their applications to John Soper at the Hawaiian News Company before Saturday afternoon at 5 o'clock on August 26. Otherwise their entry will not be received. In the past swimmers have lost out because they delayed. It is best to make your application at once.

INDOOR SWIMMING MEET ON SEPT. 9 AT Y.M.C.A. TANK

Inasmuch as the recent swimming meet given to secure funds for the entertainment of the visiting swimmers was such a success the Y. M. C. A. has announced that they will hold another meet on September 9, sanctioned by the A. A. U.

This meet will be given at the time the visiting swimmers are here, and it is thought that Vollmer, Cann and Langer will enter the events. Whether or not the swimming stars from the mainland will compete remains to be seen, and it is not thought that they will make an announcement until the big meet on the harbor is over.

In case the mainland swimmers do not enter the meet will be staged with local swimmers competing, promising another excellent event. The committee in charge are to be congratulated upon the success of the recent meet, and everything went through in a proper manner. Glenn Jackson has announced that the tank swimming meet set for September 9 will in no way interfere with the big carnival in the harbor. "The three nights' carnival will be the one big thing in swimming," said Jackson. "Ours will be a little desert if we can get the boys to compete in the tank."

EKLUND LEAVES ON MATSONIA FOR PLAY IN COAST TOURNEYS

William Eklund, singles tennis champion of Hawaii, will leave on the Matsonia tomorrow for San Francisco, where he will compete in the California tennis tournaments next month. He will be paired with A. L. Castle, who is coming on from the East for the tourneys.

Castle has been playing in the eastern tournaments with Atherton Richards, and both have been making a good showing. Richards may come West to compete in the California matches. If so Eklund may pair with John O'Dowd, who is now in school at the University of California.

POLOISTS WILL PLAY WEDNESDAY AFTERNOON AT KAPIOLANI FIELD

Poloists in practice for the championship will play a match at Kapiolani polo field on Wednesday afternoon at 4:30. There are a number of visiting players here and some of the Kaula players will have an opportunity to work out.

Jay Gould, who will be one of the Kaula four, will be seen in action, and as Walter Dillingham is back in the saddle the polo enthusiasts are looking for a spirited practice match. In the past some of the impromptu matches have brought out fast play, and according to the players tomorrow's match is expected to be one of real interest.

BELL MAKES A 69 ON HALEIWA COURSE FOR RECORD; 33 AND 36

Alexander Bell, professional at the Oahu Country Club, lowered the Haleiwa course record on Sunday morning in an exhibition match. Bell made the course in 69, which is two strokes under the record. Going out Bell got a 33 and in the second nine took 36. Haleiwa is becoming a popular place for golfers, and many of the local devotees of the royal and ancient pastime plan foursomes for rounds at the hotel links on week ends. With a new record on the course to aim at the golfers will have much pleasure trying to equal the mark of Hawaii's leading player.

LOCAL HUNTERS HAVE LUCK ON ISLAND TRIP

Although it rained every day except one and the weather was quite chilly at times, a party of Honolulu sportsmen, headed by Arthur G. Fase, was successful in shooting two deer on Molokai and has returned to this city tanned from outdoor life and looking fine.

Those in the party included Arthur G. Fase, Arthur E. Troiel, Dr. Harry M. Delber, dental surgeon at Fort Shafter; P. M. Smoot, H. E. Wescott and Ralph S. Johnstone. Smoot and Wescott returned last week and the other four came back Sunday. The hunters were at an elevation of 2850 feet most of the time and said the weather was almost cold at times. They were away two weeks.

Cann Can Swim

REDDY CANN, NEW SWIMMING MARVEL.
Edward M. Cann, who won the 500-yard championship at St. Louis, defeating Duke P. Kahanamoku and other swimmers. "Cann can swim?" or "Cann Can Swim," are two phrases that are often used on the mainland. The first expression may be used at present, but if the New York nator who will come here with Herbert Vollmer does as good work here as at St. Louis the latter expression may be used. Cann will enter all three races here.

STAR-BULLETIN PICKS 11 OUT OF 13 WINNERS

List Published in Saturday's Issue Shows Only Two Changes From Finals

Selecting eleven winners out of thirteen isn't considered the worst picking in the world, and this in a meet where novices and relay teams were entered. The list of selections published in the Star-Bulletin on Saturday afternoon only differed with the list of final results in two respects, the 200-yard novice event and the bank relay.

When the selections were made in the last track meet the Star-Bulletin selected 10 winners out of 13 events, and predicted that the interscholastic meet would go to the winner of the relay. This proved to be true and St. Louis won out in a close meet by capturing this event.

Had little Konowaloff continued his race in the 200-yard event the Star-Bulletin would have selected 12 out of the 13 winners, as the little Russian swimmer had the race well in hand. In every event the winner was picked, and the second place and third place swimmers finished according to the selection. In two events the second and third events were changed, but in these it was a close finish won by inches, in the 500-yard and intercollegiate events. The following table shows the winners and Star-Bulletin selections, the winners appearing first in roman type and the Star-Bulletin selection in black-face type:

500 yards—Duke, Cunha, Kruger—Duke, Kruger, Cunha.
200-yard breast stroke—"Tough Bill" Macfie—"Tough Bill," Hawkins.
200-yard boys—Pua, Konowaloff—Konowaloff, Pua.
Plunge—Pratt, Melim—Pratt, Melim.

H. M. AYRES AND JOHN O'ROURKE BACK FROM RENO

Horsemen Bring Florence Roberts, Furlong, Mary Jay, Fair Mary and Lahontan

H. M. Ayres and John O'Rourke, well-known horsemen of Honolulu, arrived this morning on the Lurline, bringing with them five of the best bang tails from Reno. O'Rourke brought with him Florence Roberts, considered one of the best on the coast; Lahontan Water, Mary Jay and Fair Mary from the Wingfield stables. Jockey Pat Phillips will ride this string.

Ayres brought down Furlong for Harold Giffard, and H. Donvitz, the popular jockey at Reno and Tia Juna, was also along and will have the mount on Giffard's entry. Ayres said this morning that the horses were all in excellent shape and ready for a race. Florence Roberts and Furlong have made the best showing of the lot and these two entries should cause plenty of trouble to the local starters.

LOCAL SWIMMERS SET NEW RECORD FOR RELAY AT 'Y'

Honolulu swimmers added another world's record at the Y. M. C. A. on Saturday evening. When the time was announced at the finish of the 160-yard relay no record was given out, but Kelli, Lane, Cunha and Duke smashed the world's record for this distance by 1:35 seconds.

On March 6, 1913, Heber, McGillicray, Rathel and Foster, swimming for the Illinois Athletic Club, made the 160 yards in 1:17. The time for the distance on Saturday evening was 1:13.25. There was no existing record for the 200-yard swim by five entries.

SIMONS FANS 15 OF HAWAIIAN TRUST TEAM BUT LOSES OUT 4 TO 2

Pitcher Simons of the Wholesale Paper Company team struck out 15 of the Hawaiian Trust Company batters on Saturday afternoon and then his team lost out by a score of 4 to 2. He allowed but four hits, while the paper team secured six hits off Moriama.

Moriama was also in fine form and sent nine of his opponents back to the water cooler.

The lineup of the teams was as follows:

(Wholesale Paper—Frank, 2b; Kane, c; Cushingham, 3b; Simons, p; Sharlin, 1b; Helman, l. f.; Pat, ss.; Henery, c. f.; Ing, r. f.)
(Hawaiian Trust—Williams, 1b; Paty, 2b; Hong Chack, ss.; Moriama, p; Ziegler, 3b; McAllister, l. f.; Stevens, r. f.; Raseman, c. f.; Magoon, 1b.)

MRS. GINACA IS PLAYING TENNIS IN COAST EVENTS

BERKELEY, Cal., Aug. 15.—After a series of exciting and sometimes very closely contested games the Hotel Shattuck tennis tournament closed last Saturday and Sunday afternoon. Mrs. Henry Ginaca, the holder of the spring trophy, and Leon Parker, winner of the present tournament, played for the cup. Young Parker won, the score starting with him in the lead and stood 9-7, 6-3, 6-7 and 6-1. Both young people are great favorites at the hotel and it was difficult to say whether sympathy for the plucky little loser or congratulations for the winner were stronger. Both players were very evenly matched and the game furnished considerable excitement for the onlookers while it lasted. The trophy, a beautiful silver cup, which was presented by W. E. Woolsey, has to be won three times to become the permanent possession of the winner.

Mrs. Ginaca is a former Honolulu girl, being before her marriage to Mr. Ginaca Miss Gladys Ryckoff.

The Geological Survey has estimated that in the state of Colorado alone there are sufficient shale beds to yield 20,000,000,000 barrels of crude oil, from which one-tenth of that quantity of gasoline may be obtained.

Platinum prices are going down. While the metal cost $100 an ounce last winter it is now $24 an ounce. Before the war it was $42 an ounce.

Old Grad Spouts Out About Swimming Marks

Tells Mr. Tourist While Juggling a Waffle That Hawaii Has Got Some Human Motor Boats Around the City—Gives a Line Full of Chatter on Duke and Others—Says Present Records Would Drive Investigator to Nut Sundae Works

BY THE OLD GRAD
"I see that this here Duke is some swimmer," said the tourist, as he hurled a fork into the stack of waffles this morning at the downtown gastronomic emporium. "He's quite a swimmer, and one of the best in the country. I imagine," said the imitation maple syrup gargar as he placed a quarter section of baster productions under his belt.

"Some swimmer," I shot over to him, as I tried to coax a little slip of bacon away from an egg. "Why, that bird can give the Miss Detroit or any of those fast motor boats a head start and win out without getting wet. One of the best swimmers in the country doesn't begin to split half out, Mr. Tourist. He just naturally dives in and wins, that's all, and when you jump off that day coach at Spriggs Crossing you just hike over to the general store and slip it to them that you saw the fastest bird in water, not excepting the hydroplane that broke the record."

Old Grad Gets Busy
"I just naturally like to hand out a heap of chatter when some of those boys begin to rattle out a line of stuff that sounds like Hawaii was a tank town."

"Whenever one of those waffle jugglers try to slam the local sports I get busier than a one-armed paper hanger with the itch, and tell him that Hawaii is there 47 ways. The first day he lands he asks if they play ball here. Then he springs this stuff about how his home town was a hummer and would beat the stuffin' out of any squad. And the Travelers go through his burg every year and run rings around the Home Prides. The last time they won, 14 to 0, in seven innings."

The Prize Boy
"Speaking about this swim game, it's a good stunt. When our school started the first swimming meet, the prize water disturber bumped the end of the tank in 74 seconds for the hundred and we thought he wasn't natural. Why, this little Russian kid coulda tied an anchor around his neck and beat our champ with a breast stroke. Our prize bird had the dancin' men hang around him like the dancing men hang around the leading exponent of Terspichore, and he did 74.3 in the Huron river down stream."

"There brin'g' over a bunch of class from the mainland to go after the local wave percolators, I gather, and this trio of boys is going to have their hands full. If you want to be in on the front rows with the Pickers' Union, just grab a little stencil and make a memo on your cuff, if you've got a cuff, that Hawaii is going to grab the honors in the three big struggles through Harbor aqua.

More Records
"Say, these records get me, though. I got a little space left up in the cloudy portion of my think tank where I can let slide that Dan Kelly made the 100 in 9.34, and I can make a guess that Mazy Long stepped the 440 yards in 47, but these swimming records are getting to be like the recapitulation of sales in a 5 and 10-cent department joint."

"Somebody tells me that Harry Heber holds this record for swimming the 150 yards on his back, while some other water cutter holds the mark for swimming on his side. Joe Spinash of Minneapolis hold the mark with a handkerchief tied around his neck, while Steve Aqua beat the time with a bracelet. Now, here come Bill Splash and gets his name in the book 'cause he's got the record for a blue handkerchief."

Had 'em Crossed
"If you was to slip up alongside of me when I wasn't looking and say that Mike Dip of Goldfish, Nev., made a new record for the 75 yards with three fingers crossed, I might acknowledge it or come back with a line where a fellow in Australia finished through the tank liquid with his nails' manuevered in less time. That's it."

Real Records
"The committee on arrangements hasn't any 77-yard events booked, but the 100, 200 and 500 will be easy, and if this boy Duke gets in action and breaks one of the marks, I can dig down on page 19 of the S. O. A. A. and find how much he damaged the old record, without looking for an asterisk, which says, 'This mark was made with a bracelet or without a manuever.' This afternoon I'm going to take a set of burglar tools and do a little pasture manuevering, and if that waffle juggler from Spriggs Crossing is out there and try to tell me how he made less than an 80, I'm going to make a perfect nubbick shot off his whiskers, if I do get in the rough."
